Did You Know?

Employment in the health industry is projected to grow 18% by 2026, much faster than the average growth for all professions, adding about 2.4 million new jobs. HOSA-Future Health Professionals is a pipeline for tomorrow's health workforce. HOSA is a global student-led organization that provides a unique program of leadership development and technical skills training for middle school, secondary, postsecondary, and collegiate students enrolled in health and biomedical sciences.
